

ICO consultation on the draft right of access guidance

The right of access (known as subject access) is a fundamental right of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). It allows individuals to find out what personal data is held about them and to obtain a copy of that data. Following on from our initial GDPR guidance on this right (published in April 2018), the ICO has now drafted more detailed guidance which explains in greater detail the rights that individuals have to access their personal data and the obligations on controllers. The draft guidance also explores the special rules involving certain categories of personal data, how to deal with requests involving the personal data of others, and the exemptions that are most likely to apply in practice when handling a request.

We are running a consultation on the draft guidance to gather the views of stakeholders and the public. These views will inform the published version of the guidance by helping us to understand the areas where organisations are seeking further clarity, in particular taking into account their experiences in dealing with subject access requests since May 2018.

If you would like further information about the consultation, please email SARquidance@ico.org.uk.

Please send us your response by 17:00 on Wednesday 12 February 2020.

Privacy statement

For this consultation, we will publish all responses received from organisations but we will remove any personal data before publication. We will not publish responses received from respondents who have indicated that they are an individual acting in a private capacity (e.g. a member of the public). For more information about what we do with personal data see our privacy notice.

Please note, your responses to this survey will be used to help us with our work on the right of access only. The information will not be used to consider any regulatory action, and you may respond anonymously should you wish.

Please note that we are using the platform Snap Surveys to gather this information. Any data collected by Snap Surveys for ICO is stored on UK servers. You can read their Privacy Policy.

Q1	Does the draft guidance cover the relevant issues about the right of access?
	Y Yes
	○ No
	O Unsure / don't know
	If no or unsure/don't know, what other issues would you like to be covered in it?
	The guidance covers the relevant issues about Right of Access and provides clarity for ROA practitioners
Q2	Does the draft guidance contain the right level of detail?
•	y Yes
	O No
	O Unsure / don't know
	If no or unsure/don't know, in what areas should there be more detail within the draft guidance?
	As a baseline the guidance provides the right level of detail, this could be improved for more complex areas.
Q3	Does the draft guidance contain enough examples?
-	(Y) Yes
	O No
	O Unsure / don't know
	If no or unsure/don't know, please provide any examples that think should be included in the draft guidance.
	It is recognised that the examples need to cover all areas of business and it would be impossible to tailor this to specific areas of business ie Public Sector, NHS, Police, Social media etc

We have a small percentage of requestors who take up the majority of resources. This has the knock on impact that others in that all requests are delayed. Some examples are:  Self generating requests - they will contact the police via our contact centre make numerous statements in the call then make a ROA for the call log, emails, etc in relation to the call they made.  Excessive persitent requests with no clear goal / purpose
On a scale of 1-5 how useful is the draft guidance?
		1 - Not at all useful	2 – Slightly useful	3 – Moderately useful	4 – Very useful	5 – Extrem useful
